Our Biology Post-Baccalaureate Program

is a non-degree program designed for college graduates who wish to fulfill pre-med, pre-dental, and other pre-health course requirements or take courses to enhance your GPA. Post-bac students receive individual attention from expert professors in a close-knit liberal arts environment, right in the heart of New York City.

Marymount Manhattan College's convenient location, small size and student-centered approach to education offers you several benefits:

- Work closely with our expert faculty advisors for placement based on academic experience and career goals.
- Opportunities for research and clinical experience.
- No wait lists!
- Available courses in arts, business, humanities, and more.
- Full access to and support of pre-health committee.
